C.M.A. CHIEF IS OPTIMISTIC FOR YEAR 1938

Past Three Years Have Shown Wonderful Recovery Record, Claim

VANCOUVER, Dec. 31.—Canada is entering the year 1938 in a "more favorable position than almost any other nation," F. C. Brown, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, said Thursday in a prepared New Year's statement.

"Canada," said Mr. Brown, "has achieved a wonderful recovery record over a period of three years, establishing new high levels of production in many lines during 1937. Now she is experiencing but a brief setback."

THINGS TO BELIEVE

"The volume of world business, under the United States, continues at a fairly high level, and Canada enters the New Year in a most favorable position. She has many things to sell, the Empire and other nations will continue to buy in large quantities."

"The year 1938 will require a greater degree of courage and constructive effort, calling for the fullest measure of co-operation on the part of all branches of industry and agriculture and government. We are in a position to meet all our obligations achieved during 1937."

NATIONAL SPIRIT

"We only must develop a fuller measure of co-operation, but all that we need for a better year, national spirit, because unity in our confederation of provinces is essential to progress in all lines of endeavour."

disorders and demonstrators smashed street lamps. Police arrested the rioters.

Disturbances were reported at the same time in Port Said and Manshara.

British authorities warned closely the situation regarding the 17-day detention of the Egyptian King, Farouk, who was on the condition of the throne, following the ouster of the king.

Swinging Wadud, who was said to be a member of the royal household, was killed in the riot.

BRITISH DISPLEASED

The British embassy was unofficially reported displeased with the Egyptian ministerial crisis.

Britain was understood to have protested against sending troops to Egypt unless the situation became grave. Earlier reports had said preparations were being made to move troops from Palestine if necessary.

One of Mahadawi's first acts as minister was to order 15,000 Wadudists disbanded.

CRABS BARRED AT COAST TO HALT TYPHOID

Vancouver Health Officials Move Swiftly To Curb Outbreak

VANCOUVER, Dec. 31.—Civil authorities Thursday moved to prevent the sale of crabs caught in waters adjacent to Vancouver harbor in an effort to stamp an outbreak of typhoid fever which has taken three lives.

Shortly before noon yesterday a 40-year-old musician, whose name was withheld by medical authorities, died in hospital. His illness was diagnosed as typhoid fever, which he had contracted a few days ago. One of the other deaths occurred on the day before Christmas, in the case of a 60-year-old man, also under treatment.

Fifty other cases are under treatment. Dr. J. W. McIntosh, city medical health officer, said the city's department of quarantine and city analyst J. C. B. Vance were working on a report to be submitted to the Dominion health officer, to demand that the sale of crabs be stopped.

McIntosh said the report, based on the theory that four of the typhoid patients may have contracted the disease by eating shellfish caught in polluted waters, would recommend the city be given control over shellfish sales.

MOONSHINER'S ONLY THOUGHT IS FOR FAMILY

Farmer Tells Story of Poverty—Stays 50-Mile Hike to Court

CALGARY, Dec. 31.—John Fodmeyer, 35-year-old Doon-harbor farm laborer of the Delton district, had his first real meal in weeks but the taste of his wife and four children worried him.

Based on an ex-cise act charge—the manufacture of liquor—Fodmeyer told police a tale of poverty and hardship.

After a "grand breakfast" at the RCMP barracks he was released on bail for court Thursday, fined $25 for three months and told he will have to serve the jail sentence.

ONLY THOUGHT

The prospect of three months in jail with regular meals didn't worry him. His only thought was for his family.

"My wife and my children?" he asked officers. "Do you think they'll get fed?"

A John told the police he started to make liquor in order to provide a Christmas dinner for his family. He sold some. Police heard about it and raided his poverty-stricken home. They found several gallons of home-made liquor and also a case of live poultry.

NO GOOD IN HOUSE

There was no food in the house and the children, the eldest 14, were dressed in scanty clothing. The family had a cent. Bell officials were notified.

Summoned to appear in Calgary, Fodmeyer started to walk the twelve miles to the city Wednesday. A police patrol found him and he was brought by car to the barracks here.

Neither should government in its efforts to conquer the ill-fated efforts which we suffer.

A NEW YEAR

At midnight tonight we will dimly 1937 and welcome 1938. This dual-line between the years is curious, and the only thing that either might wonder the purpose. Nothing happens in the physical universe to mark particular time in any way. The only thing from another. There is no Divine ordinance saying this and no other day shall be regarded as the end of a year, and tomorrow the beginning of another. Since there is no Divine Accepted by free consent and established by custom, this date has been chosen as the one from which to count the years.

The Greeks, and the Romans, used to regard the year as beginning on December 21st, the shortest day. The reason for this was, apparently, that since on this day the sun turns back from its southward journey and the approach of spring and summer is in prospect,
it was a northern hemisphere, and the year remote in these northern latitudes, it must be admitted. There is no corresponding reason in the natural order of things for naming January 1st as New Year's Day.

THE OLD YEAR

No very definite reason why we should celebrate the occasion, except that this is a long-standing and growingly popular habit. It is the same old world in the first day of January as it was in the last day of December, with the same conditions to be met, the same duties to be done, the same joys as grey or bright, the weather just as cold, the work as heavy, the "daily round and common task" unchanged.

Yet celebrate we do, with enthusiasm and unanimity that betrays neither care nor conscience. We are not a people of mere deference to custom. And the celebrating is a welcome to the new year, not a fond farewell to the old one. The year 1937 is the half of the prescribed ritual. Everyone seems glad the old year has ended; he would be puzzled to explain why.

Few choose to recall the good things the year has brought them. In fact the more prosperous
a year has been to them, the more useful and when it ends. There is something akin to ingratitude in this "fading out" of the old year with acknowledgments in his blessings are forgotten and only its unpleasant experiences remembered. For when all is said and done, things might have been worse.

THE FESTIVAL OF HOPE

Of course the morrow is to be better; that is the dominant note. Cold logic suggests it may be, and probably will be, a better year. The wishes of last New Year did not all make good. They never do.

What is logic? Hope runs high? And New Year's is the festival of hope. Next year the dreams are to come true, the longings to be fulfilled, the shadows to flee away and happiness abound. "There's a good time coming" always on the morrow.

This perhaps is why we celebrate the arrival of a new year. "My hope is the future with a golden gleam, sometimes shining the brightness of the present. Tomorrow is not so bright as today, the next year better than this one.

Men live in hope. When he ceases to hope he ceases to live in any broad or useful way and becomes merely a breathing robot. It would be strange if sometime during the year there was not a recognized custom for giving rein to the magic spell of hope and living the glorious days that are to be; a time when we could get away from the prosa present and anticipate the pleasure of the promising future.

THE RECORD

No doubt the year that is closing has brought to most people in this country a number of joys and sorrows, of rejoicings and disappointments, which go to make up the record of the year. Most years are similar, with variations in individual cases. None brings unhappy happenings nor is any altogether Collectively, Canadians may, and should,
recognize that their lot has materially improved in 1937. More people have had the means of a comfortable and independent life. There has been a gratifying expansion of production and with a general improvement in the conditions of life the country over.

than a loss. Germany, Italy and Japan have looked themselves together in a conspiracy to defeat international law; the most sinister development that has threatened world peace since the close of the last war.

A year ago war was raging in Spain. It is still raging there. And Japan has invaded China, carrying slaughter over a half-dozen provinces,
and looking to extend its dictatorship over the conquered areas and carrying on in a high-handed manner that may involve other countries in the conflict. That the possibility of a world war is no present prospect of an early end to the carnage.
Armament factories in Europe are working overtime. There are more men under arms and more warships afloat than there were at New Year's 1914. The world is jittery with apprehension. It can almost be said that war is definitely expected, in most European capitals.
Signatories to the Briand-Kellogg pact have evaded its terms to make the scarcely disguised instrument of national policy. Even unarmed Canada, which set an example to the world in living up to the spirit of the League Covenant, is looking to its defences, and none too soon.

In this respect 1937 has been a tragic year.

THE WISH IS MAGIC

As men and women the world around tonight
exchange wishes for a Happy and Prosperous
New Year, they have taken to do so with deep sincerity. No casual repeating of the seasonal formula will do. The world is in grave danger, and that danger hangs over the world as a "remote" and far inland city of Edmonton
and province of Alberta.

And there has developed in some parts of Canada a spirit of pessimism which threatens the stability and perhaps the existence of the Dominion itself. A season of prosperity would begeth a season of complacency, and complacency as has not been known for many years.

The New Year is peculiarly timely just
now. Humanity needs a respite from horrors and shudders and hardships.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—S. writes: "Have gone through much sickness and disease and nothing but rest and a heavy dieting will do me any good."
ANSWER: Try taking more systematic exercise and see if you cannot build up your strength and lose weight. If you are not losing weight, matter how much you diet, nothing you can do will take the place of physical exercise, and it is surprising how much strength you can build up increasing your exercise when it would probably seem to you that more rest is necessary.

QUESTION—Maybelle M. writes: "What are some of the symptoms of anemia?" ANSWER: Some of the symptoms present in anemia are: pale skin, loss of appetite, headache, dizziness, faintness, fatigue, chilly sensation and rapid heart beat. The patient with anemia very frequently suffers also from lack of appetite.

QUESTION—Mr. Melvin J. writes: "When I do anything cold it seems to give me a cold, and I have a heavy feeling in my chest and lasts for as long as a week afterwards. What causes this and how can I overcome it?"
ANSWER: A cold is a bacterial infection, and is extremely sensitive to anything cold, and it seems to be the sensible plan for you to adopt would be to use warm or only slightly cooled drinks, but never cold ones.

QUESTION—Mrs. Rudolph O. inquires:
"What is the cause of enlarged lymph glands on the side of my neck? Sometimes they seem to get a little smaller, but they are not especially painful. I have been told that they are enlarged lymph glands. They are not tubercular but are enlarged because of the lymph nodes."

ANSWER: An enlargement or swelling of the lymphatic nodes or glands on the side of the neck commonly follows the development of infection or inflammation affecting the nose, throat, sinus cavities, ear, etc. Temporary enlargement is a frequent symptom when the patient has an acute cold, more or less permanent enlargement of the lymph glands is usually a sign of chronic disease.

Very often the enlarged glands will be reduced in size through placing the patient on a fruit and vegetable diet. The diet should be one containing an abundance of both cooked and raw non-starchy vegetables. Recovery will be more rapid if the patient is limited to a diet of apples and sugar, or if these foods are omitted entirely for a time. A reasonable amount of meat may be eaten if the patient is unable to get along on a fruit and vegetable diet.

After your doctor gave you an examination to find if any of the teeth have infected roots, if you have any trouble, or if you have chronic cataracts, and the head of the teeth is not in a normal condition found to be taken into account in working out a treatment to fit your individual case. These measures which build up the health of the entire body will prove helpful, such as vigorous exercise, exposure to sunlight, fresh air, and improvement of the skin condition through bathing followed by scrubbing with a coarse towel. Swollen neck glands usually respond to a course of treatment.

Some of the most common causes of swollen neck glands are: colds, influenza, and other acute infections. If you have a cold, or if you are suffering from influenza, or if you have any other acute infection, it is very likely that your neck glands will be swollen. If you have any chronic infection, such as a sinusitis, or if you have any chronic infection, it is very likely that your neck glands will be swollen.

People with money can buy small stacks at a high price or they can buy hundreds of bushels
from mountain men, or charcoal made in some districts from willow and other underbrush. But the average farmer is not so fortunate; he burns only grass or stubble. The grass is gathered by boys up on the mountain, and where nothing else can be grown. And when the harvest is taken from the fields, they are raked over and every bit of stubble is gathered in, fed, and how much can fuel of that sort do to keep anyone warm?

By Nellie McClung

Life flows smoothly at times, so smoothly that we forget the world and all its sorrows. The laundry men come Monday morning, the mail comes at 10, the boats pass at 2:30, the planes across the road bow and bend in the breeze, the branches which the old maple stump puts out each year carry a few bright leaves against the green, and on the fields the Chinese workers are putting the land in shape for next year's planting, all sit on the ploughed fields looking out to sea. Here is peace and contentment, and what seems like security. Some one who lived in a house like this broke into some one day, beginning: "My life flows on in endless song Above earth's radiance."

NELLIE MCCLUNG

HUMANITY ATTACKED

Security is a dream. Contentment is the possession of the mentally blind. We are at war! Humanity is being attacked.

If there is anything that can be done to stem the flood of hatred it must be done quickly. Strange and terrible forces are let loose in the world today. Humanity is being attacked on all fronts. In Spain and in China the warfare is the ordinary warfare of bloodshed and pillage, but the battle rages everywhere. The revolution is here whether we know it or not.

I have heard preachers talk of the anti-Christ, and the Battle of Armageddon, but I did not take it seriously. It seemed a long shot into the future and the future never bothers any of us until it begins to turn into the present. And that is what is happening.

SOME BLAME U.S.

There are some who spend their energy blaming the United States for not coming into the League of Nations, some who think Great Britain has played an ignominious part in not stopping Japan's aggression, some who say women could have prevented all this trouble if they had not been so fond of making the bottom of it all.

There are always people who are satisfied with little annoyances, but the time for that has ended. We are looking at the great struggle between the forces of evil and the forces of righteousness, and we see many people fighting under the Black Banner of Death. We do not know what they are doing.

The great forces for decency are the home, the school and the church. They are the custodians of the intellectual and spiritual treasures of the race. They are Christendom's contribution to the world. And they are threatened at this moment as never before.

COSTLY ADJUSTMENTS

Now I would be in despair if I did not know that there is a Force that can meet every advance of the enemy, and that with it we can mobilize all the forces of decency and conviction and faith, if we will pay the price. The Kingdom of God cometh not by observation. It is not as easy as that. If it came that way we might have had it, for we are all pretty skillful as observers. We are even good at our reports. But these qualities are not enough. There is something we must do before that Force comes through us. We must definitely seek it in humility and honesty, and on this night of the Old Year we have a good time to begin. There may be costly adjustments, which we must make.

for we have left out the supernatural. We have held to the old fallacy that two and two always make four. Let me illustrate.

A woman went to a Domestic Court to tell her troubles. She could not live with her husband any longer. He was a selfish, ill-mannered drunken brute. He never gave her a civil word. The judge said he would tell the whole story and she certainly confessed her husband's sins vividly and wholeheartedly. When she had finished the judge said: "Now that covers his side, so let us pass on to yours. What have you done that you should not have done?" He asked, who had come with her, spoke for her.

SUFFERING SAINT

"She is a suffering saint," she said, "and has borne more than any woman should bear." The judge addressed the injured woman. "This is a matter between you and God," he said, "and I want you to do this. Sit down every morning by yourself. Ask God to help you to tell the truth and write what comes to you. Tell your sins as faithfully and fully as you have told your husband's. Come back in a week."

In a week she came back, with many written pages. She had a new look in her eyes. "I do not want a divorce now," she said, "we have settled our own problems. I showed my husband what I had written, and we have become reconciled. We are now writing."

DOES NOT COMPEL

"Will this always work?" I asked the judge who told me this story. "No," he said, "man can always frustrate the will of God if he refused to be honest. God does not force anyone to accept His plan. He offers but does not compel." That seems to be the pivotal point. You and I have the eating voice. We decide. Christ came to earth to glorify man's personality. The judge asked not bring about a reconciliation between the estranged young people. There had to be a bit of soul surgery. But when the power of God was honestly invoked, the miracle happened.

At this time we commend to our readers a new publication called "Living Tide," a dramatization in pictures of the new quality of life. Printed in eight languages, it is going round the world, carrying this challenge to young and old, that we shall by side our belief in armaments, diplomacy and human wisdom, all of which have failed us, and at the last can only give gas-masks for babies. These methods of dealing with difficulties we are asked to renounce, and take instead the whole armor of God which "maketh us rich and addeth no sorrow." If it works in domestic tangles we believe it will work in international affairs.

The cynic will rise and say: "It won't do any good to begin to love your enemy and all that, when he is getting ready to fire on you!" How does the cynic know that love will not work? It has never been tried, and besides we are not yet involved in war. We are in Canada of all countries, we should be able to do something. Here is a Canada and while nation with no hatred. No one has a grievance against us. We should lead the world in bringing in the New Year. If we could show to the world that God can bring release and freedom from hatred, spite and narrowness in our own country, who knows what effect it might have on the world? There was a promise given long ago by one who said: "If I be lifted up I will draw all men unto me."

BRUTAL SLAYER OF LITTLE GIRL DIES ON GIBBET

LINCOLN, Eng., Dec. 31.—Frederick Nodder, 48-year-old automobile mechanic, was hanged in Lincoln prison today for the murder of 10-year-old Mona Tinsley.

Contrary to custom, men among the crowd of 200 before the prison gates when notice of his execution was posted failed to remove their hats, thus emphasizing the public indignation aroused by his crime. "Justice has slowly but surely overtaken you," the judge said in passing sentence on Nodder, November 23.

The girl's body was found in the River Itle, near Newark, her home, five months after she disappeared. The mechanic was sentenced to seven years imprisonment at hard labor March 10 for abducting the girl. The murder charge was not brought until the body was found, brought until the body was found, brought until the body was found.

The plane is the scene of the crash, but, learning the Spider Gang have carried off the motors, knocks out one of the gang, dresses in his clothes and joins up with the enemy. He goes aboard The Wing, and from there boards an enemy dirigible. Later he is discovered and kidnapped. Meanwhile a plane manned by Tracy, not knowing Tracy is aboard, fires on the dirigible which bursts into flame. The flaming balloon buckles and drops through space, with Tracy missing.

Prairie Agriculturists Begin to See Ray of Light

All Hands Seek Permanent Cure To West's Sufferings

Full Resources of Science and Governments Battling With Farm Conditions on Canada's Plains.

By FRANK FLANNERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 31.—Harassed by drought, low prices, crop failure, dust storms more or less constantly for seven years, prairie agriculture now is beginning to see a bit of light in a general atmosphere of gloom.

It is not merely the light of hope of a good crop next year which brings annually in the spring of western farmers. It is the light of knowledge, scientifically accumulated by painstaking research and experiment.

Experts can now see the so-called drought problem of western Canada in its true proportions. Already they have applied certain remedies which will make a recurrence of the acute distress experienced in the past year less likely. Other recent years impossible, now nature should be less cruel with even greater afflictions than any so far experienced.

KEY TO METHOD

The problem as scientists see it is not due to a few abnormally bad years. It is due to wrong agricultural methods, to poor planning of settlement, to ignorance and neglect of the necessity of putting land to its proper use.

The recent drought has not caused the problem, but it has aggravated it. More important it has focused attention on the trouble of western farming and hastened the inevitable correction of past mistakes.

Repeated crop failures in the dry belt, which extends from southern Saskatchewan, southern Alberta and, at times, south western Manitoba, have brought a train of human suffering to the immediate districts. Economic loss to the whole of Canada. But even more the general and general drought the country had trouble in store.

GENERAL CO-OPERATION

Thousands of farm families have had to rely on public relief or charity for the necessities of life. They have been unable to pay taxes and so roads, schools and other public services have deteriorated. The land itself, bare of vegetation and swept by hot, dry winds has suffered. In many districts the soil has blown away.

Because of lack of feed and water livestock have been sold or shipped out of the country. Thousands of farms have been abandoned not despite this, but because of farmers on the prairie has increased.

FARMING PRACTICES

Permanent improvements in farming practices and better distribution of the objectives of the "P. F. R. A." as the official name of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act is known. Its activities will naturally fall into four branches, education, experimentation, physical work and long-range economic planning.

The educational work consists of instructing farmers in the methods by which they may get the best results from their land and avoid loss from drought. It is also directed to the promotion of community relations efforts and demonstrations of the advantages to be derived from cooperative measures.

One farmer, for instance, might adopt methods which would enable him to drift on his own farm, but if adjoining farmers did not follow the lead he would drift over from their land and make his efforts futile.

More than 40 agricultural improvement associations with a total membership of about 100,000 farmers have been formed in the

Canada's Mining Has Record Year With Wide Range

Production Averages More Than $1,000,000 A Day, Review of Mines Ministry Indicates.

OTTAWA, Dec. 31.—The mining industry of Canada flourished in 1937, the figures announced by the Mines Ministry today showing that the country produced more than $1,000,000 worth of minerals every day. The review of the year's production shows a wide range of output, with gold, silver, copper, nickel, lead and zinc among the principal products.

The review shows that the total value of minerals produced in 1937 was $365,000,000, an increase of 10 per cent over the total for 1936. The value of gold alone was $10,000,000, an increase of 20 per cent over the total for 1936.

Canada now is producing 100,000 ounces of gold annually, and 100,000 tons of copper. The value of silver produced in 1937 was $10,000,000, an increase of 20 per cent over the total for 1936.

The review also shows that the value of minerals produced in 1937 was $365,000,000, an increase of 10 per cent over the total for 1936. The value of gold alone was $10,000,000, an increase of 20 per cent over the total for 1936.

Some of the highlights in Mr. Crevier's report are:

The industry employed more men and women in salaries and wages and dividends, spent more for supplies and equipment and used more electric power than in any past year.

The value of output over last year's total of $365,000,000 was an increase of 10 per cent. Mineral exports will be more than $100,000,000, an increase of 10 per cent over the total for 1936.

Canada supplied 90 per cent of the world requirements of 33 per cent of the asbestos requirements, 18 per cent of copper and lead and 10 per cent of zinc.

Production of silver was 100,000 ounces and silver exports $10,000,000. Lead and zinc exports $10,000,000. Nickel exports $10,000,000.

Near the close of this year Canadian miners were producing gold at the rate of $400,000 a day. Dividends from the metal mines will reach a new high this year of $100,000,000. Salaries and wages for all miners will reach $100,000,000.

Teachers To Seek Damages In Dismissal

Amendments To Existing Legislation Petitioned By Federation

MOOSE JAW, Dec. 31.—Amendments to existing provincial legislation which will assure fully dismissed teachers of recovering the actual damage sustained instead of the customary one month's salary will be sought by the Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation.

The federation may also seek to have the right to appeal to a board of arbitration.

Recent court decisions in such cases indicate the dismissed teacher has been allowed only a month's salary. It is claimed the federation believes this unjust and that the teacher should recover the actual damage sustained instead of the customary one month's salary.

The federation may also seek to have the right to appeal to a board of arbitration.

Making 1938 Year Of Exceptional Beauty

By ALICIA HART

The best New Year's for the skin is the one that is planned for girls who like to show their skin. It is a plan that is made up of a few simple rules, and it is a plan that will make the skin look its best in 1938.

One simply rubs a little of the cream into the skin before going to bed. This will keep the skin soft and supple, and it will prevent the skin from becoming dry and cracked.

Another rule is to use a good quality of soap. This will keep the skin clean and free from dirt and grime. It will also help to prevent the skin from becoming itchy and irritated.

And finally, it is important to get enough sleep. This will help to keep the skin looking fresh and healthy. It will also help to prevent the skin from becoming tired and worn.

By following these simple rules, girls can make 1938 a year of exceptional beauty for their skin.

New Year's means resolutions, usually dry, dusty, and uninteresting. But it also means a chance to make a new mental year, and to start off with a clean slate.

It is not going to be a year of making resolutions, but a year of making a new mental year. It is a year of making a new mental year, and it is a year of making a new mental year.

Girl Who Had Illit Love Affair Dreads Marriage

NOTHING is more puzzling to a woman of my generation than the really indolent predicament into which today's very modern girls are falling. They think themselves so free as they are to live their own lives. But they are in the same old line, and it gives away under them just as it did in the 'teens. Just as it has since the establishment of moral boundaries at 19.

"Dear Mrs. Norris," writes Thelma, who is 19. "More than a year ago I came to college on a 500 a month allowance from mother and dad. For a little while I was a stranger, but I caught on in athletics and dramatic activities, and no girl has ever had a more royal time than I. During this time I met a man I will call Ned. We liked each other from the first, and as there was no special reason to put on pretense, I went with him on week-end trips and we were what is called lovers. Ned is one of the handsomest fellows on the campus, and he has a very good job. He is also a very good worker, and he has a good job. He is also a very good father, and he has a good son."

She's Paying For Her Mistake

She doesn't like the word "sin." So I will only say that Thelma has made a foolish mistake. Marriage to a man who is not a good man is a mistake. It is a mistake that she is paying for.

MISS LUSTED RETIRE AFTER 29-YEAR TERM

Twenty-nine years of faithful service to the provincial government ended Friday evening when Miss M. R. Lusted bade farewell to her fellow workers in Edmonton's court house and retired on pension.

Entering the civil service in 1908 in the attorney-general's department, Miss Lusted was clerk to J. W. Blaine, who was at that time inspector of local officials. When Mr. Blaine was appointed mayor in 1910, Miss Lusted was transferred to the court house staff as assistant court clerk, a position which she held until 1913.

She was extremely popular with members of the legal profession for the untiring courage she brought to bear in the performance of her arduous duties.

On behalf of the staff R. P. Wallace, court registrar, presented Miss Lusted with a memento of the kindly relations which existed between her and fellow workers, and the terminated her association with the court house offices.

Mayor John W. Fry was back in his office Friday following a visit to Calgary Thursday, where he attended a conference with Mayor A. Dunsen of that city in connection with the brief which Alberta cities are submitting to the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations which is scheduled to meet in the New Year. Copies of the joint brief which deals mainly with taxation and social services as distributed by every federal, provincial and municipal government, are being forwarded to cities in Alberta and also to the commission's headquarters at Toronto.

Sheriff John Rae Retires After 29 Years Of Service

Was One of Alberta's Most Popular Civil Servants—R. P. Wallace to Take Over Duties in the New Year

One of Alberta's most popular civil servants, Sheriff John Rae, retired on superannuation Friday afternoon after completing 29 years of faithful service to the province.

He was the recipient of a case of place, a token of goodwill and of the esteem he was held in by members of his staff. The presentation was made by Miss Marie Lusted, senior member of the sheriff's office staff.

Duties of sheriff will be taken over by R. P. Wallace, registrar of the Edmonton courts, it was stated by officials of the attorney-general's department.

Appointed license inspector for the Edmonton district in 1900, Mr. Rae continued with the attorney-general's department until 1911, when he entered the real estate business in Edmonton. He rejoined the staff of the attorney-general's department in 1912, in that capacity until 1921. In that year he was appointed sheriff.

Sheriff Rae was extremely popular with court house employees and the members of the local profession, and always maintained the happiest relations with the general public, performing many delicate duties in a most efficient manner for him the respect and often the friendship of those by his performance.

One of the hardest ordeals of his official career, according to Sheriff Rae, was the case of the GOES TO COAST

J. GRAHAM IS RECIPIENT OF ESTEEM TOKEN

Chief Janitor of Civic Block
Retires After 27 Years' Service

Honoring James Graham, chief janitor at the Civic Block on the completion of 27 years' service with the city, employees presented him with an esteem token and address at a ceremony held at the Civic Block Thursday afternoon. Mr. Graham joined the service in 1911 and is now retiring at the age of 55.

The specially-designed card presented to the veteran employee bore the following: "Presented to James Graham, on his retirement from the city's employ after 27 years' faithful service, by his fellow workers, many enjoyable years of service."

WORDS OF BURNS
As a compliment to Mr. Graham who hails from Scotland the card also carried the words of Robert Burns:

"Ye'll be my friend, some day,
When I'm no more;
Ye'll be my friend, some day,
When I'm no more;
Ye'll be my friend, some day,
When I'm no more;

Wild Celebrations Will Welcome New Year in Edmonton

Turn of Calendar Brings Refreshed Outlook
For Better Things and Improved Conditions to All Citizens

Thousands of residents lustily singing the immortal strains of Auld Lang Syne, hundreds of motor car horns vying with one another to hark the loudest, dozens of locomotives and other sirens piercing the air with their shrieks and innumerable other noise-producing contraptions will unite at midnight on Friday to usher out the decrepit, tottering Old Man 1937 and welcome with huzzas and open arms the bouncing Baby 1938.

In private homes, in theatres, in dance halls, on the streets, in hotels and other points of public congregation and recreation, the turning of the year will be celebrated on the city's streets.

Old Father Time with his ancient eyes will be on hand to gather unto his own Old Year 1937, while thousands will look upon the year with renewed feelings.

HOPE TO ALL
Many will regret the departure of 1937, but because a year of success or good fortune, or because it brought happiness, or because it brought unhappiness, they will be glad to see its termination. The world, however, is a better place, business less depressed and people more cheerful and optimistic.

All will disseminate joy and gladness at the arrival of 1938. With the New Year comes to us hope and promise for the future. The mystic of the old year, the possibilities and potentialities from the imagination of each and every one.

All have this in common: that they look forward to the New Year with a refreshed outlook for better things and improved conditions and greater personal happiness and satisfaction.

Edmonton stands ready, as of the world, celebrations will start early.

Early in the afternoon many of the town and other places of business were anticipated to close on "Saturday" that is to close up earlier.

The Anarchists Now Stalks All India Is Claim

Warning Given Of Grim Spectre Clinching Country

Favorable Conditions Seen For Spread of Communism

BRITISH UNITED PRESS
BOMBAY, Dec. 31.—With a warning that the grim spectre of anarchy stalks India, a writer in "The Times of India" draws attention to the favorable conditions for the spread of Communism resulting from the formation of Congress Ministries.

Communism, he states, is fast acquiring a hold in the Congress and the country, while Gandhi and the Congress look on helplessly. The numerous disturbances recently in industrial and agricultural spheres, the festering state of Calcutta, where disorders have been fomented among workmen, and the spread of the mischief to Madras and Bombay are cited as unmistakable signs of the process. Communism is making.

SUITABLE FOR PLANS
The Communists regard the present Surrender of Congress in the Indian political world as eminently suitable for their plans.

The Indian community has for years striven against Congress rule. At the present time, with the advent of Congress to power, it is a hereditary claim for freedom of thought, speech, association and movement. The Communists are associating themselves with this movement, knowing that if it succeeds, they can enjoy the undisturbed prosecution of their activities.

Congress politicians, while aware of this, are in a dilemma; they are handicapped by their own ex-dare not move.

They dare not move against exaggerated claims for freedom of speech, to do so would be to court unpopularity. They dare not move in face of it, that would be to court unpopularity.

Gandhi—a pacifist philosophy—is diametrically opposed to Communism. He claims to be a revolution by force, and Gandhian is still the policy of the large section of the country. Yet the Communists, writing in the name of peace and thought, by actually digging their own graves, the article states.

Wild With Anger

All nature is at war, the philosophers say, and it sure looks like it with these wild gales emulating the Chinese and Japanese storms.

Winds flapping, flailing each other with wicked blows and their heavy blows, the two battlers seem in the unusual picture show churn the state of their feeding ground into a swirling cauldron of foam.

Razzle Dazzle Of New Year's Prices Steady

By The Canadian Press
The razzle-dazzle of New Year's eve celebrations will be up and running in practically the same prices that prevailed last December 31.

Most revolutionary of the new entertainment features will be exhibitions and general dancing of the big apple in Montreal and other cities.

One Toronto night spot is throwing in an all-night orchestra along with two other bands to give away and sweet treatment in the times of the hour until the new year is well started.

The hotel supper dance in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver and other centers still rank high in popularity, with reservations as good, or better than at the end of '36. Vancouver hoteliers are charging from 50 cents to a dollar for supper for admission to their supper dance with a year class heart from the prices are about the same.

In Montreal, police have appealed to motorists to leave their motor cars at home and use other means of transportation if they intend to drink alcoholic beverages.

DOGS by P. Hamilton Goodsell

Sonner or later everyone who owns a dog will be called upon to administer medicine to some form of canine ailment. It may be as simple as a liquid, a pill or capsule. Quite often the dog will refuse to take the medicine. In the case of pills, the animal is permitted to swallow them and then spit them out. For example, a dog might swallow a certain medicine but then spit it out. In the case of capsules, the dog might swallow them but then spit them out. In the case of liquids, the dog might swallow them but then spit them out.

It is usually well to get another person to help. Never try to administer medicine in the presence of many persons and noise, or surrounding that tend to excite the patient. For liquids I prefer to use a dosing glass or bottle sufficiently large to hold the dose and which should be held in the right hand of the patient's right arm. The use of a spoon is apt to cause more of the dose to be lost, especially if the animal resists or the person helping fails to carry out his part of the job adequately.

Some liquids can be put up in a capsule. In giving medicine in this way there will be no danger of the dog being walled off by the dog's own body. In giving medicine in this way there will be no danger of the dog being walled off by the dog's own body.

LIONS RELISH BUFFALO FROM ALBERTA PARK

SARNIA, Ont., Dec. 31—Buffalo meat is becoming popular in Sarnia. Members of the Sarnia Lions Club were served buffalo steaks at their weekly luncheon Thursday night. The usual sirloin or porterhouse and hard-boiled eggs were served.

Few Houses Being Built, Foothills City

CALGARY, Dec. 31—Only 19 houses, costing $22,000, were built during 1937. Building permits for the year totalled $60,000, a drop of $100,000 from 1936. But a single apartment building has been erected here in two years.

Suggestion Part Of Medical Art

WINNIPEG, Dec. 31—Suggestion is an important part of modern medicine, Dr. J. D. Adamson, superintendent of St. Boniface hospital, declared in an address to a service club here.

When a cave mother kissed her child on a heated lip, she was unconsciously healing by suggestion, the doctor said.

Modern medicine had replaced the medicine men who scared his patients out of their wits by the psychologist who treated the patient's mind as well as his body.

SPECTATOR FIRES AT FILM VILLAIN AND HITS MINER

DUGUEN, Ill., Dec. 31—A western "buffet" was nearing a climax at a local theatre last night when the situation became too tense for one spectator. The heroism was to suffer from the brutality of the villain. A middle-aged spectator suddenly rose from his seat, rushing a pistol.

He didn't go to get away with it, boys, he cried. The man pulled the trigger, and the bullet pierced the cushion of the seat just in front of him and grazed the hip of the man sitting next to him.

The man pulled the trigger, and the bullet pierced the cushion of the seat just in front of him and grazed the hip of the man sitting next to him.

Police were summoned, but while the 200 persons in the theatre stood in silent protest, the man with the gun escaped.

TUXIS BOY RAPS FOOTBALL CLUB

WINNIPEG, Dec. 31—Harold H. Hilliard of Kenora, Ont., charged here last night that the Winnipeg Rugby Club had misrepresented its amateur standing. He urged that if officials of the western championship club denied the charge they be asked to furnish proof of its falsity.

The parliament passed a resolution urging active opposition to professionalism in amateur sports. Another approved resolution requested each club to appoint a personal delegate to boycott letters displaying self-interest in the championship of individual constituents the responsibility to have each volunteer a like agreement.

Break In BBC Broadcast Is Smoothed Over

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

The SHRIKE, OR BUTCHER BIRD!

SHRIKES LIVE IN BOTH THE OLD AND NEW WORLDS, AND ARE CLASSED AS 'SONG BIRDS'; ALTHOUGH, IN MOST SPECIES, THE SONG IS A HARSH, GRATING NOISE.

THE NAME "BUTCHER BIRD" COMES FROM THE CURIOUS HABIT OF KILLING INSECTS, MAMMALS AND SMALL LIZARDS, AND IMPALING THEM UPON THORNS

THE PURPOSE OF THE SHRIKE'S HABIT OF IMPALING PREY IS NOT KNOWN, WITH CERTAINTY! SOME WRITERS MAINTAIN THAT THE FOOD IS HUNG UP FOR FUTURE USE, WHILE OTHERS BELIEVE THE MOTIVE TO BE SHEER CRUELTY! THE THIRD EXPLANATION IS THAT THE SHRIKE, NOT HAVING SUFFICIENTLY POWERFUL FEET TO HOLD ITS PREY WHILE IT IS BEING TORN TO PIECES, SECURES IT ON A THORN TO STEADY IT.

THE BEAK OF A SHRIKE IS POWERFUL, AND HOOKED LIKE THAT OF AN EAGLE, BUT THE FEET ARE ONLY THOSE OF A TYPICAL PERCHING BIRD.
